FALL FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES ON EXHIBITION AT ELM HALL,
SATURDAY AFTERNOON 3 TO 5 AND EVENING 7 TO 9.
BRING YOUR FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES.

The flower and vegetable gardens of Narberth produce an ever-growing quantity of blooms and eatables, and in order to encourage a still greater amount and a better quality the Narberth Civic Association is this year holding a fall flower show in addition to the spring show which has held forth during the past six years.

Our shows are strictly for amateurs, and in order to make the show a success it is necessary for every one who has flowers or vegetables in the classes listed below to bring them and have them entered along with those of their neighbors.

A thousand gay dahlias, an assortment of other fall flowers and of vegetables. It should be a beautiful sight to behold, and if we all help a little it will be.

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society is co-operating with the Civic Association in this show.

Admission, 25c.; children, 10c.

Members of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society and the American Dahlia Society admitted on membership card.

Tickets will be sold by Narberth Boy Scouts beginning Monday, the 20th, and after Thursday, the 23rd, will be on sale at Howard's drug store, Davis' stationery store and the Ivy Candy Shop.

Maybe the Tennis Tournament will be Resumed To-day

HOW DO WE KNOW? WE DON'T, WE'RE MERELY HAZARDING A GUESS—BUT THERE IS ALWAYS A CHANCE—SO COME AROUND ANYHOW.

Assuming—always assuming, of course that the Hon. Mr. Bill Tilden does not entertain at bridge, or that Babe Ruth doesn't give a tea, or that Jack Kelly decides not to entertain a few of his friends and tell them all about his great victory at the Olympic games, or that there is nothing else of any moment or consequence going on anywhere; assuming all these things and a few others for good measure, maybe—that is to say, possibly—the annual tournament of the Narberth Tennis Association may be resumed this Saturday afternoon.

Of course, one can never tell what will happen or who may be entertaining at a lawn fete and who may be invited. But an optimist might be pardoned for hazarding a guess that in the usual course of events, it is reasonable to expect a possible—but hardly a probable, tournament match or two today on the courts at Elmwood and Essex avenues. Still one can never be entirely certain of things in this more or less uncertain world, so it will not be wise to let one's hopes and expectations run away with one.

However, other things being equal—that is to say, if it rains everywhere else but in Narberth, and there is nothing to do around the house and no lawns to cut or hedges to trim,—oh, well (business of several long drawn out yawns), what do you say, fellows, if we meander down to the courts? Maybe we can get the tournament going again, what do you say, eh what? Well! Well! Well! Hello, old dear! How about a little tennis, what?

Tennis Notes.

The Tournament Committee of the 1920 Annual Tournament of the Narberth Tennis Association, having disappeared completely last Saturday, Chairman Jess Harris, of the Grounds Committee, assumed charge and did his best to see that everybody got a chance to play as often as possible. Good work, Jess. Thanks to you, a pleasant time was had by all—those present.

The great new Lasky-Griffith-Goldwyn three reel film "Almost a Tournament" had to be withdrawn temporarily owing, it is reported, to some mysterious objection raised by the Censors.

In our 'umble opinion the fame of that eminent New York jurist, Judge Rumhauser, rests largely on his stirring declaration, "I'll try anything once." Henceforth that will be our daily motto. We wouldn't, in the future, even take a chance and assume that the day following next Tuesday will be next Wednesday.

Questions and Answers.

Dear Editor: What is the difference between a Chinese play, a Robert Weathers serial and a tennis tournament? (Answer) There is no difference, Dearie; they all run on forever.

And my lonely spirit thrills

The frosty asters, the sumac, and the golden rod are calling us. The autumn tramps will be the crowning glory of this long summer; a summer jewelled by days of intimacy with amber brooks, drowsy meadows, and the dark still shadows of hemlock slopes. FORTY HOURS' DEVOTIONS AFFORD ANOTHER DISPLAY OF FINE PARISH SPIRIT.

Further manifestation of the fine parish spirit which has been characteristic of St. Margaret's activities for the past several years was afforded by the highly edifying services of Forty Hours' Devotions which were conducted this week, starting on Sunday morning last and concluding on Tuesday evening. Each service was attended by a very numerous congregation, and all day long on each of the three days private devotions were observed in the Church by the respective families of the parish, to each of whom an hour of vigil had been assigned. The auspicious occasion was under the supervision of Rev. D. J. Corbett, of St. Charles' Seminary, who is acting as rector of St. Margaret's in the absence of Father Cowley, now abroad with the American delegation representing the Knights of Columbus in the presentation of the Lafayette statue at Metz, and whose return is expected early next week. The assisting priests included Rev. Dr. Bruhl and Rev. W. J. Higgins, of the Seminary, and Rev. Richard Moore, Chaplain of the Carmelites at Oak Lane. The sermons were delivered by Father Higgins, who observed as his keynote the necessity of remaining steadfast in Christian virtue, emphasizing the abhorrence of iniquity

Editorial

Our Borough is to be congratulated in the election of Mr. Hugh W. Brown as Councilman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. William S. Maddox, who will shortly move from Narberth.

Mr. Brown is well known to the citizens of our community, and no doubt he will prove himself worthy of the confidence placed in him to devote his best interests for the betterment of the Year Round Home Town.

Our Town congratulates both Councilman Hugh W. Brown and the Borough of Narberth.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the article appearing in this issue by our townsman, Dr. O. J. Snyder, who has very earnestly taken upon himself to ascertain the true conditions confronting our local troop of Boy Scouts.

It is to be regretted that our boys are unable to secure suitable accommodations to enable them to continue their meetings, and the duty of every citizen of Narberth is very plain in this respect. The article sets forth very forcibly and intelligently the entire matter, and everyone should read it and re-read it, and then put his shoulder to the wheel to assist our local troop in solving the serious difficulty which confronts it.

THE SILVER LINING

Truly, death is a dark cloud that distresses and appalls; but life insurance is the silver lining that lightens the sorrow and dispels the gloom.

FREDERIC A. LANAHAN
205 Forest Ave. Phone Narberth 341 R.

A Plea for Narberth Boy Scouts

Residents of Narberth are confronted by a condition which challenges the loyalty of a community that justly prides itself upon its intelligence and public spirit. The local troop of Boy Scouts, which has won distinction for Narberth as well as for its members, is threatened with the necessity of dissolution. Since the closing of the Y. M. C. A. the troop has been unable to find quarters for its meetings, and unless suitable accommodations of this kind are provided this most useful and inspirational undertaking will have to be abandoned.

To anyone even remotely interested in the welfare of our boys and familiar with the work of the Boy Scouts, it must be clear that such a lapse would be deplorable. My own feelings in the matter are very deep, because in my younger days I was privileged to come into close association with boys and to derive a sympathetic understanding of their needs. As an instructor of sciences in a high school, superintendent of science instruction in public schools, and later, as an officer of State militia, I became acquainted with the propensities of youth and learned something of the ways in which its energies can best be directed toward the formation of sound character. And I am satisfied that the Boy Scouts society possesses an institution incomparably effective for this beneficent work.

My faith in the organization was abundantly confirmed a few weeks ago by a visit to Camp Delmont, on the Perkiomen, where nature and a philanthropic citizen have provided an ideal equipment for the practice of scoutcraft by organized groups of boys. Moreover, the demonstration had a particular appeal because the outstanding feature was the leadership of the Narberth youngster in the rivalry of the troops for Scout honors.

Their fathers and mothers—and their neighbors, too—have every right to be proud of the distinctions won by these manly young fellows in generous emulation with their associates. There were ten or twelve troops in camp when I was there, more than 200 boys and officers in all. The spirit of discipline, of comradeship, of helpfulness, of self-reliance, courtesy and manly achievement, was admirable, and in these respects the Narberth boy had made quite notable records, as shown by their numerous badges of merit.

While seated with the executive officers in the dining-room, for example, I observed that the Narberth troop's table bore a special flag, and I asked what that signified. The reply was that the flag was awarded daily to that troop which excelled in discipline, orderliness and general demeanor; and, furthermore, that the flag decoration had then been conferred on the Narberth troop for the eighth consecutive day. Surely, there could not be a more striking tribute to the character of our Narberth boys and the efficiency of their devoted leader, Scoutmaster Fred C. Patten.

Those not familiar with the aims and methods of the organization would be deeply impressed if they studied its varied activities. The Boy Scout learns far more than to take care of himself, to know nature, to use his hands and his head and his faculties. He learns, in addition to many varied mechanical and artful accomplishments not obtainable in so large a degree by our boys in any other way—self-respect, clean living, reverence and loyalty, and almost unconsciously develops the qualities which make for useful, Christian manhood and citizenship. In a word, he acquires habits of physical, mental and moral discipline which enhance his value to himself and to society.

It goes without saying that every good American is interested, whether he realizes it or not, in promoting such a sane and constructive work as that of the Boy Scouts. And the residents of Narberth are especially concerned because their boys have shown exceptional aptitude in the training and have conspicuously upheld the honor of the community.

In the face of such a need and such a demonstration, would it not be a reproach, a calamity, if the Narberth troop were compelled to disband for lack of a meeting place? To permit that would be to confess a woeful deficiency of civic pride and a lamentable unconcern for the welfare of our youth. More than that, it would be to sacrifice self-interest by abandoning a work which tends to elevate the present and future life of the community.

It is earnestly to be hoped that the men and women of Narberth will awaken to their obligations in this matter before it is too late and provide for their splendid Boy Scout troop the modest quarters it needs for its gatherings.

DR. O. J. SNYDER.

COUNCILMAN HUGH W. BROWN

At the regular meeting of the Borough Council held Monday night of this week, Mr. Hugh W. Brown was elected Councilman to fill a vacancy. Mr. Brown comes to the Council with an experience in public service that will be of exceptional value in solving the problems that come before the Borough fathers. The community is to be congratulated and the members of Council complimented on the selection of Mr. Brown for this important public responsibility.

To the Editor of Our Town.

If I am not mistaken, the owner of Lot 37 in the Park is the man who, at a meeting of those interested, caused to be written into the mutual agreement made among the lot holders and subscribers, that the owners of the lots should be compelled to keep them clean. And it is really fair to say that Lot No. 37 is positively the dirtiest lot on the place and indeed very unsightly.

I wonder if it would not be proper for the Park Committee to urgently request that the owner of No. 37 clean up his property and conform with his own regulations.

NARBROOK.

THE SNOW ORDINANCE.

Our Borough Council at its September session passed an ordinance requiring owners of property to remove snow or ice from sidewalks and providing penalty for violation of the ordinance.

The Snow Ordinance, as it has been called, will be advertised in Our Town, but in substance it allows property owners twenty-four hours after snow stops falling in which to remove snow and ice. Notice is then given and if the owner fails to clean the sidewalks the work is to be done by the Highway Department and the cost and a fine charged to the owner. If the bill is not immediately paid a lien will be placed on the property.

While an ordinance of this kind looks rather severe, it is only those who do not have a proper regard for their fellow-citizens who find it so.

There is no good reason why sidewalks should not be kept free of snow and ice or neglected so that water will not drain to the gutter. Our sidewalks give our residents and our visitors their impressions of the town and the owners of the properties.

The snow plow, which has been a blessing in Narberth for several years, will continue to make a path on our sidewalks.

Thank you, Mr. Councilmen, for the Snow Ordinance.

NARBERTH'S MAIN STREET.

A business section is certainly necessary to a town of Narberth's size and population. The logical location for a business section is the center of the town and near the railway station. That part of the town near the railway station is a visitor's first impression of the community's standards, and although the convenience of the stores may be appreciated they should present an appearance as clean, orderly and attractive as possible.

It is the street or roadbed itself that this article refers to, and it must be admitted that Haverford avenue at times Essex and Narberth avenues at times looks anything but like "Spotless Town." Some merchants or proprietors of stores have a habit of sweeping their sidewalks and allowing the sweepings or rubbish to remain in the gutter, probably hoping for a rain storm.

One proprietor with a proper sense of civic pride very carefully gathers up the rubbish and carries it inside to a rubbish or ash can.

Our Street Department sweeps Haverford avenue more often than should be necessary and cannot be expected to clean the street late Saturday evening so that it presents a neat appearance on Sunday.

If the civic pride of the store proprietors cannot be appealed to there is a borough ordinance, and an ordinance with teeth in it, that prohibits unnecessary rubbish on our streets that will have to be enforced.

The Women's Bible Class had a business and social meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. A. C. Staples, on last Thursday afternoon.

Prayer meeting next Wednesday evening. Subject for discussion, "Burden Bearing."

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate one hundred per cent. Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State and Nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.—Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

FALL AND WINTER DANCE SERIES.

The Post will start its fall and winter dances by holding the first dance on Friday evening, October 1st. Save this date and come out and enjoy the dances as all those did who attended them last year.

Put these dates in your diary: October 1, October 28, November 25, December 17, January 1, February 18, March 18, April 29, and May 20th.

NARBERTH AMERICAN LEGION BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Post and our good friends of Narberth who have subscribed to shares of stock in the new association for their hearty co-operation.

The association wishes to thank Our Town for their generous help and co-operation in the printing of the applications for stock, as well as all other matters pertaining to the association.

THE FREE MUSIC AND STREET DANCES.

We regret that disapproval of the free music and street dance program by some of our citizens has caused them to question the policy of the Post in regard to social activities. These programs have not been conducted by the Post, although an active Legion member has served as chairman of the Tradesmen and Merchants' Committee which has financed these affairs by subscription.

It would appear to us to be very unfair to condemn these programs simply because they do not have the sanction of precedent. Why cannot a street dance be conducted just as properly and orderly as a dance in Elm Hall? We request the adverse critics to come out and observe carefully the conduct of these dances.

The first series of the Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association will be kept open until the 6th of November. If you did not get out to the first meeting night be sure to come on October 5th between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening at "The Little Office" or the new home of the Post at the corner of Elmwood and Essex avenues, on the south side of the railroad.

We will gladly welcome applications for mortgage loans. They will bring us friends as well as new business.

THE AMERICAN LEGION WEEKLY.

Pass your weekly on to some other ex-service man to read. Perhaps your act will obtain a new member for us.

We would greatly appreciate it if anyone hearing of an ex-service man having moved to Narberth would notify the Adjutant or some members of the Post. We will gladly welcome all new comers.

JOIN THE EXTRA DUTY SQUAD.

There is still a lot of work to be done on our new home. Come over Saturday afternoon and help us to get it in shape for an early housewarming.

and the importance of adhering to true moral and spiritual standards. The devotions were opened with a procession of the clergy, acolytes and children on Sunday morning and were closed in a similar manner on Tuesday evening.

What Happened at September Council Meeting

Directors of the Civic Association have offered to report for Our Town the doings of our Borough Council at its regular sessions and have given us the news of interest to residents for the past several months.

If anyone thinks being a member of our Borough Council is a sinecure, she or he should attend a meeting and picture the amount of detail which has to be done outside of the regular sessions.

At the September session there was the usual routine of reports of all the committees which would be rather dry reading.

It will be of interest to those who live near Dudley and Stuart avenues to know that a fire hydrant is to be placed at that intersection, which will mean a better rate on their fire insurance policies.

Also a sewer is to be laid in Sabine avenue, from Conway avenue to a point about 200 feet west of Homewood avenue. And we are to have within a few days a new police officer. Mr. Hugh W. Brown, of Woodside avenue, was nominated and elected to fill the unexpired term of Mr. William S. Maddox, who has moved to Devon.

The reporter for September wishes to apologize for his lack of ability and hopes to read a better report from his colleague who reports the October session on the usual second Monday.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 3 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

Community Club Trampers—
A Retrospect

bade us good-by for his Canada journey—those days when we tramped the wooded slopes of the Chester Valley, lured by flashes of tropical color among the budding saplings: a blue warbler, a green one with his velvet collar and snowy breast, a cardinal on the tree-top, and a yellow flash of the flicker's wing.

Leading from Berwyn to the Chester Valley is an old dirt road following a dancing brook down through shadowy woods, and winding at last to the open fertile valleys across which rise the hills of Valley Forge. This is one of the favorite tramping grounds of "The Vagabonds." There we find the first shy spring flowers—arbutus, violets, mitrewort, dutchman's breeches, adder's tongue, pink azalea. Along the lower reaches of the brook great fronds of rattlesnake fern spread their feathery branches and raise their jewelled fruit, while beech fern, lady fern, Christmas fern, and maiden hair beckon us farther up the glen. Sweet bracken clothes the hillside; and, as we clamber up, Phoebe calls us with friendly voice, while above we hear the clarion call of the great crested flycatcher. A gentle cheeping at the right catches the ear of our "Bird-wise One," and we crouch on the edge of the woods, waiting patiently yet breathlessly for another note to help us find the new-comer. Another note, and we creep a little forward; a flutter, and we move to the right, and suddenly we glimpse through the underbrush a busy little bird scratching in the old leaves, his olive green body a wonderful foil for his head of banded black and yellow. This is the worm-eating warbler, and we feel ourselves fortunate in making his acquaintance. If we lived a trifle farther north we should search the woods for him in vain.

Our own woods down Hag's Ford Road yield us no fewer treasures. The floor is thick with white violets (viola pallens, not the red-stemmed ones), and among the blue ones we count our dear common ones, dog violets, swamp, Le Conte's, and that lovely deep one with fuzzy leaves, Fimbriatula. A pair of blue birds swing on a twig over the roadway and watch us as we rest. The chawinks call from the thicket; the ruby-crowned kinglets dart through the tree tops while we are peering through the brush at the white-throats. If we sit motionless on the wooded slopes above the brook we may be rewarded by a sight of oven birds, or better still, thrushes, scratching among the leaves like busy little hens. A little later great masses of silvery spleenwort fern border the brook as it swings into the sun at Woodbine avenue, and across the road New York ferns grace the old stone wall down whose lichened sides the vines hand tremblingly.

On hot August days the trains to Ardmore and the trolley to Crum Creek bring us to aisles of wooded quiet under hemlock arches. The sweet breath of these depths is like wine. Here the wood floor is clear of underbrush, and the shining stream keeps us happy company as we clamber along its steep sides hunting checkerberry, rattlesnake plantain, and beech drops.

Now there is a touch of autumn in the air, and our feet are once more restless for grassy roads. Oh for the pungent odor of burning brush, and a glimpse of gentian blue!

"There is something in October sets the gypsy blood astir,
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name."

G. C. B.,
One of the Vagabonds.
